AMERICAN JEWISH HISTORY 1870-1924

Immerse Yourself in the Immigrant Experience and Its Impact on the American Jewish Experience

This semester-long high school course explores the period when over two million Jews left Eastern Europe and elsewhere to begin new lives in the United States. During their studies students will travel alongside immigrants as they journey to their unknown home and encounter the challenges presented by American work patterns, religious frameworks, and mass culture. Students will learn how Jewish immigrants reacted to life in the United States by both conforming to and rebelling against its dominant culture, eventually laying the foundations for the American Jewish community we have today. As they explore the immigrant experience, students investigate their local community's past and discover their place in the present.

Lookstein Virtual Jewish Academy is a nonprofit online school of Jewish studies created by The Lookstein Center of Bar-Ilan University. Our team of master educators designs and brings to life online courses for students in grades six through twelve to help teachers and administrators add depth, fun, and variety to Jewish studies. Offered in topics from Tanach to Jewish Ethics, our courses can be incorporated flexibly into curricula to expand resources, enrich studies, teach 21st century skills, and creatively accommodate a widening range of student needs.
